The case for independent working-class education

Colin Waugh

writer and author of Plebs: the lost legacy of independent working-class education

Wednesday September 7 18:00

Mander Hall, NUT offices,
Hamilton House, Mabledon Place, London

All trade unionists welcome

RMT is delighted to invite you to the 2011 Charles Watkins Memorial Lecture, which commemorates the role of a key founding activist of the National Union of Railwaymen in 1913, who was a student at Ruskin College in 1909 and took part in the Ruskin strikes of that year.

The lecture is intended as a contribution towards re-establishing the tradition of independent working-class education.

This year's guest speaker is Colin Waugh, author of Plebs: the Lost Legacy of Independent Working Class Education.

Admission is free | A pay bar will be available on the night
