Special meeting regarding the possible reaffiliation of the RMT to the Labour party

As you may be aware your union is consulting RMT Branches over whether or not the union should affiliate to the Labour party your NEC is asking for the widest possible involvement of members in this discussion by attending any meetings of your Branch where this will be discussed.

The decision to hold this consultation was made by a meeting of the RMT 2017 Annual General Meeting (AGM). The AGM is your union's supreme governing body and is comprised of elected rank and file RMT delegates

There will be a special extended meeting of the branch on 10th May starting at earlier than usual at 16.00hrs to discuss the possibility of reaffiliating to the Labour party, we will have a lot to get through so this meeting will start on time. A complimentary buffet will be provided.

Your opinion matters here, its your union! Even if you have never been to a union meeting before or are not sure how things work turn up and have your say. The Chair of the meeting will ensure any new attendees get their opinion heard.

When: 10TH May 16.00hrs,

Where: Ex services club, Harvey road, Leytonstone. E11 3DB

Why: Because its your Union so your opinion matters
