

Does your meeting, need a rep?

Don't sign or say anything at a meeting unless you have talked to a rep

Members have recently been asked to attend meetings with their managers, over a variety of issues. These have been classed as informal chats, or attendance reviews, or fact-finding interviews.

Before any other dialogue is discussed, you need to ask (and have noted) the following question. "could this meeting or anything I say in this meeting, lead to dismissal or disciplinary action being taken against me?"

The Manager has 3 options, if they answer Yes or I don't know, then you need a rep present.

If they answer no, be sure to have it included in the minutes.

Contact details of your reps are below, do not be forced into going ahead without speaking to your reps first.
