

invites night tube station staff

... to meet your union reps:

- know your rights
- raise your issues
- demand better conditions

Friday 23 August 21:30-22:30
training room, king's cross st.pancras station
(meet at Euston Road entrance at 21:20)

RMT is demanding better pay and conditions for all London Underground workers. Come and discuss how this affects you, the latest developments in talks, and what action we can take to press our case.

The union is also calling for better working conditions for Night Tube station staff: a 16-hour week (more pay and more access to in-work benefits); more staff; protection from harassment and assault; better access to admin support; training, appointments, etc, available during our working hours; better access to promotion and to transfer into full-time posts.

We want your input. Do you have other issues and concerns? What can you do to help us win these improvements? What is most important to you?

Come to this meeting! RMT reps will be there to discuss with you, listen to your views and answer your questions.

If you are not already an RMT member, you can join at this meeting.

Called by RMT London Transport Region Station and Revenue Grades Committee and RMT Stations and Revenue Functional Council reps.
