

Protest: Stop Cowboy Cleaning Contractors

Make London Underground cleaning part of a public London Underground!

Private company Initial has been awarded the cleaning contract on three London Underground lines.

But Initial are going to subcontract to ICS. Multiple subcontracting means insecurity, loss of rights, and threats to jobs, pay and conditions. London Underground cleaners, most of whom are migrant and ethnic minority workers, are already among the most exploited workers in London. Now they face being passed from one employer to another in a sick game of bosses' pass-the-parcel..

Join cleaners and their union, RMT, in protesting at the offices of Metronet (now part of London Underground).

"Cleaners are not parcels to be passed around"

www.rmtlondoncalling.org.uk/cleaners

12:00-14:00

Wednesday 18 November

Templar House, 81-87 High Holborn

nearest station: Holborn

organised by RMT London Transport Regional Council ■ supported by Feminist Fightback